CONFIDENCE.

New Yorkers Not Panicy Over the Cholera in Their Midst.

The Element of Confidence in the Constituted Authorities is Present.

The Individual is supplementing the Official Labor in Fighting the Plague—Fronts Are Near and Cholera Must Go—Four Cases on the Bohemia.

NEW YORK, Sept 17.—The metropolis awoke Friday morning to a cloudless sky and a crisp, windy atmosphere. These weather conditions while cholera is near become daily an element in the news situation.

Frost is not far away. The days are already having chills by night and fevers at noontide. The crisp air also braces and brightens the population against fright or that nervous apprehension that in its results invites the approach of any disorder. There has not as yet in any locality of the city been reported any symptoms of hysterical panic. Even neighbors to those who have been stricken are complacent and accept the situation philosophically, if not even carelessly. The element of confidence in constituted authority is present. Daily those who read the prints are learning how firmly and closely the various municipal officials are co-operating. The street cleaning department is quickened in its efforts, and the people observe the results daily in the renewed and more careful scouring of the streets. Lower portions of the city are being attended to in a manner so thorough as to be a novelty to the dwellers thereabouts. The odor of disinfectants is upon the air. The pungent, cleanly smell of chlorides comes from unexpected localities. The individual is supplementing the official effort, and in homes, offices and business places generally precautionary measures are evident. Shoulder to shoulder with the health board stand the police, with Byrnes in the forefront. Doctor and policeman for the time being are brothers. They travel in pairs and groups. The hospital authorities have slit open their armor of lide-bound apathy and are alert and co-operative. The coroners, too, are grimly active or ready for activity. All vacations in the board are this morning declared off, and the entire staff will wait in constant readiness for prompt action if unhappily they are needed.

The funds for protection are daily piling up, and people who read the morning papers are reassured. In one fund, that of the chamber of commerce, is the sum of $150,000 over $93,000 of the total having come in Thursday.

The poor who read feel their anxiety lessened. The rich, they see, are alert with their means and this counts for good to the poor more than to the wealthy. It is an element of strength in the situation. Then behind all local effort is the proved strength of the state and its blunt and homespun executive. He has said he "don't care for votes lost or won by any action he may take in a case like the present cholera trouble." The people all have read of this, they know what he has done and they feel more than ever reassured.

Dr. Byron visited the Bohemia at quarantine. He reports that there were 11 deaths at sea, and that four cases were removed to Swinburne Island Friday morning. He reports that those who died on board the vessel died of gastro-intestinal trouble.

WASHINGTON ASTIR.

Anxiety About the Sanitary Condition of the White Lot, Headquarters for the G. A. R.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—The cholera visitation to New York city has made a stir in a good many places. Washington, which is reported to be in good sanitary condition, has been serene, and is so still; but there is a vigilant eye out. Secretary Charles Foster sent for Commissioner Douglass Thursday and had a talk with him on the cholera subject. The secretary's special anxiety was about the sanitary condition of the White Lot, where there are temporary sleeping quarters for about 25,000 G. A. R. men. The commissioners report that everything is in good condition, and ample arrangements will be made for the care of those who may be sick from any cause. The question of instituting a medical inspection of passengers arriving from New York is under serious consideration, but the authorities are cautious and deliberative on the subject on account of the complications which would arise in the rush of Grand Army visitors.

A Child Murderess Arrested.

LONDON, Sept. 17.—A wholesale system of child murder was uncovered here Friday. In the house of Mary Ann Hall the police found a trunk in which were the remains of several bodies. Lime and chemicals sufficient for the disposal of hundreds of bodies were found. Mary Ann, who is a mid wife, was arrested while throwing the body of an infant into the river.

EVERY woman will be encouraged, says The Courier-Journal, by the fact that a woman in Louisville, on looking under the bed, discovered a man. The sex has been scoffed at too long because of this highly necessary precaution of looking under the bed. WHEN THE COLD WAVE CAME.

He was sweltering in the city,
While she traveled by the shore,
And she wrote him loving letters—
They were something like a score,
And she told him of her and over
Thus she thought it just a shame,
That he waited in the city
Till
The
Cold
Wave
Came.

But he answered her demurely,
That he couldn't leave the town;
He was overrun with business—
Oh! the dear, devoted rascal!
But so long as she was happy,
And the children were the same,
Why, he'd sweltter in the city
Till
The Cold
Wave
Came.

Oh! the morning broke in showers,
And the air was sharp and chill,
And vacation's knell was ringing
In the green and in the hill,
And she thought she'd just surprise him,
Did this tender-hearted dame,
Where he labored long and lonely,
Till
The Cold
Wave
Came.

And she hurried from the seashore,
By the swiftest train that ran,
To her home within the city,
To surprise this lonely man.
By the light from out the window
On her alighted she read the name
In she stepped, and oh! so softly
When
The Cold
Wave
Came.

And oh! she did surprise him,
Where he reveled in the night,
With a paler face than ever,
And a bottle on the right,
And his wicked cronies 'round him
And the chandeliers ablaze—
And 'twas warm enough he found it
When
The Cold
Wave
Came.

PREVENTION VS. CURE.

No One Who Obeys These Instructions Need Have Any Fear of Cholera.

OFFICE CITY PHYSICIAN, }
MAYSVILLE, September 17th, 1892. }

HOW CAUGHT.

Healthy persons "catch" cholera by taking into their systems through the mouth, as in their food or drink, or from their hands, knives, forks, plates, tumblers, clothing, &c., the germs of the disease, which are always present in the discharges from the stomach and bowels of those sick with cholera.

Thorough cooking destroys the cholera germs; therefore don't eat raw, uncooked articles of any kind, not even milk.

Don't eat or drink to excess. Use plain, wholesome, digestible food, as indigestion and diarrhea favor an attack of cholera.

Don't drink unboiled water.

Don't eat or drink articles unless they have been thoroughly and recently cooked or boiled, and the more recent and hotter they are the safer.

Don't employ utensils in eating or drinking unless they have been recently put in boiling water; the more recent the safer.

Don't eat or handle food or drink with unwashed hands, or receive it from the unwashed hands of others.

Don't use the hands for any purpose when soiled with cholera discharges; thoroughly cleanse them at once.

Personal cleanliness, and cleanliness of the living and sleeping rooms and their contents, and thorough ventilation should be rigidly enforced. Foul water closets, sinks, faucets, cellars, &c., should be avoided, and when present should be referred to the Health Board at once and remedied.

PRECAUTIONARY MEASURES OF TREATMENT.

The successful treatment and the prevention of the spread of this disease demand that the earliest manifestations be promptly recognized and treated; therefore don't doctor yourself for bowel complaint, but go to bed and send for the nearest physician and be cure. Send for your family physician.

Don't wait, but send at once.

If taken ill in the street, seek the nearest drugstore, and demand prompt medical attention.

Don't permit vomit or diarrhoeal discharges to come in contact with food, drink or clothing. These discharges should be received in proper vessels and kept covered until removed under competent directions. Pour boiling water on them, put a few solidified carbolic acid in them (not less than one part of acid to twenty of hot soap suds or water.)

Don't wear, handle or use any articles of clothing or furniture that are soiled with cholera discharges. Pour boiling water on them or put them into it, and scrub them with the carbolic acid solution mentioned above, and promptly request the Health Board to remove them.

Don't be frightened, but do be cautious and avoid excesses and unnecessary exposures of every kind.(—World.)

Her Confidence Was Well Founded.

"I would rather trust that medicine than any doctor I know of," says Mrs. Hattie Mason, of Clifton, Carter county, Mo., in speaking of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. This medicine can always be depended upon, even in the most severe and dangerous cases, both for children and adults. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by Power & Reynolds.

At The Theater.

"The Nabobs" have every reason to feel proud of the large and enthusiastic audience which greeted them last evening. A great many changes for the better have been made since "The Nabobs" appeared here last season, those who saw this fine musical extravaganza then pronounced it one of the best of its kind. If there was a dull moment during last night's performance, it was not perceptible. There is more absurdity and laughing situations in "The Nabobs" this season than its former admirers and patrons thought it possible to accomplish. It is all there, and only the eye-witness can fully appreciate Henshaw, Miss Ten Broeck and their excellent company of fun makers. Miss Ten Broeck was wonderfully clever, as she always is, and was a great favorite. Handsome John Henshaw is perhaps without an equal in his line of comedy.—Atlanta (Ga.) Constitution.

Under Bookmaker's Coat I,

It is now said that the controlling interest in the Latonia Jockey Club is held by the Applegates, well-known bookmakers of Lexington and Louisville. When the sale of Judge Perkins's stock, which controlled, was originally reported Secretary Hopper promptly denied the rumor that it had gone to the owners of Garfield Park, Chicago, but admitted that the track had passed into the hands of a syndicate of Kentuckians. This latter is reported to include the Applegate and the "Suburban" or Enright Pootroom Company, and others whose names, also, it is said, a franchise for a race course in Kentucky, and an option on a tract of land near Latonia, both of which were used as leverage in the acquirement of the control of Latonia.

Those Marriages.

Huntington Herald.—There is some speculation among the expectnt public as to who will be the victims created in the matrimonial business line by the death of 'Squire Massie Beasley of Aberdeen. It is to be hoped such an industry may drop from sight forever. From eight to ten thousand couples have been united in illegal marriage by 'Squire Beasley and his predecessor, 'Squire Gerrard, a great portion of the marriages have been productive of misery. Innocent, trusting girls in their teens have been lured from comfortable homes by promises of love and debauches, against the will of loving parents, and have entered upon lives of wretchedness from which there is too often no escape but death. We have known the tough, whisky-soaked, tobacco-stained old baldheaded sinner whose soul had been blackened by a thousand foul escapades, steal from her happy home the child in her pinafore, and usher her into a life of miserable abuse, intolerable suffering and thankless drudgery. And there was no redress. One upon whom the business Ohio should wipe this stain from her escutcheon, now and forever.

AND HERE IS ANOTHER.

"It is about time that Maysville shut down on the runaway marrying business. A man named Harrison Bradford is under the impression that he has fallen heir to the late 'Squire Beasley's business and is marrying people right along. It does not appear that he has any legal authority to make the tie binding, and he is likely to be the cause of a great deal of unhappiness and misery."

Part of the above is all right, but would the gentlemen who wrote in for The Ashland Sigual tell us what Maysville has got to do with the matter? The late 'Squire Beasley was and Harrison Bradford is a resident of Aberdeen, Brown county, O., entirely out of Maysville's province.

HENSHAW and Ten Broeck, in the musical comedy "The Nabobs," will make their first appearance in Maysville at the Washington Opera house on next Tuesday evening, September 20th. The two stars are said to be without an equal in their line of comedy. Seats now on sale at Nelson's.

A STRANGE BOX.

An Infernal Machine Found in Gov. Flower's Room.

Mayor Grant Asks President Harrison to Stop Immigration.

Another Death From Cholera in New York City—Several More Suspicious Cases Reported—Importation of Beet Sugar From Hamburg and Altona.

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—A mysterious box, which is believed to contain an infernal machine, has been received by Gov. Flower at his cholera headquarters in the Windsor hotel. The nature of the contents was fortunately discovered before any harm was done. The box was followed up by a letter, the contents of which indicated that it was inspired by the same disordered brain which planned the mysterious machine.

The manly stand taken by the governor in resisting the mobat Fire Island and in placing the unhappy passengers of the Normannia in the shelter provided for them by the state seems to be the only excuse for the outrage.

Dr. Asheley A. Webber, of Brooklyn, reported to the board of health Friday night the death of Miss Meyer at 291 North Eighth street under circumstances that lead him to believe a case of Asiatic cholera. Two inspectors were detailed to investigate and report.

Two additional suspicious cases were reported, one on Fulton and another on McKibben streets. They are being investigated.

At a conference of the health board their attention was called to the importations of beet sugar, which comes largely from Hamburg and Altona. Although it was not thought advisable to prohibit such importation, it was recommended that great care be exercised in its reception.

After receiving reports from all the city officials having the sanitary condition of the city in their care, and conferring at length with the heads of the various city departments, Mayor Grant decided Friday night that it would be advisable to request the president to stop immigration from infected European ports entirely for the present. The following message was accordingly sent to President Harrison:

MAYOR'S OFFICE, Sept. 16, 1892.

HON. BENJ. HARRISON, President, Executive Mansion, Washington, D. C.—Dear Sir: As mayor of the city of New York I deem it my duty to call your attention to the present condition of sanitary affairs in this city.

While there is no cause for alarm in the present condition, and while every thing is done by the authorities to prevent the spreading of the cholera, every precaution should be taken to prevent its further introduction in this community.

I, therefore, request that you, as president of the United States, exercise all the authority you possess to prevent further immigration to this country until all fear of the introduction of cholera shall have disappeared, I am, with great respect, very truly,

HUGH J. GRANT, Mayor.

Craves for Animal Blood.

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 17.—The mysterious fiend who has been ruthlessly slaughtering live stock in the northern suburbs for several weeks is still at work. Friday morning a valuable horse belonging to John Gorman, a dairyman, was found lying dead in the pasture, with its head severed from the body. Since the bloody work began many suspects have been arrested and several of them narrowly escaped lynching, but the police are unable to apprehend the right party.

No More Immigrants to Come.

Several telegrams have also been received urging that a quarantine of ninety days be established against all immigrants from Europe.

Scalded Her Child to Death.

VALPARAISO, Ind., Sept. 16.—A little child of James Early, of this county, was scated to death. The child was sitting on the stoop playing, when the mother came out of the house carrying a tub partly filled with boiling water. Just as she was passing the child a handle of the tub broke and let the hot water drench the little one.

It Came From Hamburg.

The Tariff Not a Tax.

HAND-SAW FILES.

It is very evident that the farmer, the carpenter and people generally who use hand-saws are not "Tariff taxed," 75 cents a dozen (the duty on imported files) on the files they buy to keep their tools in order. Good American 4½-inch files, made by American workingmen at American rates of wages, are advertised in the trade papers for 27 cents a dozen less than Grover Cleveland's alleged tax on them.—FROM AMERICAN ECONOMIST.

CONNECTICUT PROSPERITY.

IT was not the aim of the framers of the McKinley act that the prices of farm produce should be cheapened, says The New York Tribune. On the contrary, it was their earnest expectation that agricultural interests would be benefited by Protective legislation. One of the most striking results of the Senate Finance Committee's investigation of prices is the fact that, while there has been a marked decline in the prices of manufactured articles in ordinary consumption, there has been a sharp advance in the prices of nearly all agricultural products, especially cereals and meats, barley and vegetables and other staples. If the price of wool has declined in consequence of overproduction throughout the world American wool-growers have only partly felt the unfavorable effect. In nearly all other classes of agricultural produce there has been an advance in the first price of the farmer.

A striking instance of this general effect of the McKinley act is given in our special correspondence from Hartford. Prosperity reigns in the Connecticut Valley, where the tobacco-growing interest was menaced with destruction two years ago. Farms which were abandoned are now under cultivation; waste lands have been reclaimed; farm buildings have been improved and mortgages paid off, and as the effect of higher prices for leaf tobacco the industry has received a new impulse. The hopes of the Tariff-makers have not been wholly fulfilled, since Sumatra leaf with 10 cent labor behind it is still imported in the face of the increased duties; but a very large measure of relief has been afforded for the Protection of New England farmers, and they sorely needed it. Two years ago they were rapidly being crowded out of the American market by importations from the Netherlands and the East Indies. To-day they are enlarging their acreage in tobacco, and are receiving good prices for an improved quality of leaf. This is one of many Connecticut interests which have felt the invigorating tonic of McKinley prosperity. It is one of many indications that the state fully appreciates the benefits of Republican legislation, and will be found in line with New York in November voting for the continuance of prosperity under President HARRISON.

C. W. WILLIAMS, Esq., our candidate for Sheriff is one of the best men in Mason county. He has always maintained a reputation for sterling worth, and is a gentleman who commands the warmest esteem of those who know him best. He is a thorough business man and is without a superior in Mason county in point of capacity to perform the duties of Sheriff. He is clever, popular and strong, and his election will be hailed by all with pleasure, for business coming to his hands will receive prompt, intelligent attention. Mr. WILLIAMS is not an offensive partisan and has received the suffrages of men of all political faiths, for the office of Justice of the Peace in the Maysliek Precinct, which he has filled with marked ability and with great satisfaction. Let the thoughtful, intelligent people of Mason county carefully consider the question of the Sheriffalty and vote for him for he is a thoroughly good man and will make a capital Sheriff. It is a case of the office seeking the man this time and let us go to work and avail ourselves of this chance to place a good man in that position.

PRESIDENT HARRISON AND HIS CRITICS.

PRESIDENT HARRISON is not a man who deserts a public servant whom he has found faithful and whose work "has been highly advantageous to the United States." His emphatic declaration, in his letter of acceptance, that his confidence in Minister EGAN has been amply justified, will not gladden the hearts of malicious critics who, as the President pointedly says, seem to think "that to be a Democrat one must take the foreign side of every international question, if a Republican administration is conducting the American side."

THE Free-trade press has more to say about Commissioner PECK'S wicked conduct in telling the truth about the effect of the Tariff on wages than it found time or inclination to say a few months ago about Secretary RICE'S falsification of the census. That seems strange, but it is easy to supply the explanation. In this instance the truth hurts Mr. CLEVELAND, and the Free-traders are beside themselves with rage. They begin by calling Commissioner PECK an intriguing traitor and a ridiculous person; they have ended by making him out to be a criminal and a law-breaker.

ATTENTION is called to the advertisement in another column of T. W. Parry, who has for sale a fine tract of land on the Maysville and Lexington Turnpike about two miles beyond Washington. It is a very desirable piece of farming land.

AN OUT OF SEASON DUCK.

It Was Shot by One Hunter and Captured by Another.

It is a well-known fact that human nature doesn't like to be laughed at, so I'll just tell you, as a friend, a little joke that was played on me by "force of circumstances." It happened on Long Island, says a writer in Forest and Stream. I was down there woodcock shooting many moons ago, and on the evening preceding my intended departure I was urged to get up before daylight next morning to shoot a black duck or two to carry home. I strongly protested against it, as it was the last day of September and the law was supposed to protect them till the first of October. However, I stifled my conscience in the face of such a temptation as they held out (assuring me that they had been shooting them for two or three weeks) and slipped off quietly before the break of day to a small pond in the woods. I was covered all over with a guilty feeling, but "stood my ground," and with the first streak of dawn I saw a reconnoitering party sailing over and one of them tumbled suddenly into the huckleberry bushes not forty feet away.

I waited in the frosty air till daylight, and no more came I went to where I marked my victim down, and after parting the thick bushes and hunting carefully for some time I found him and hastily stuck him into my big coat pocket, imagining a game warden watching me from behind each tree. I hurried back to the hotel, and as it was nearly train time I ran to my room, opened my valise and jammed the duck in without even looking at him and got on the cars with about as guilty a feeling as a high-minded, honorable sportsman ever walked off with.

After getting home and sitting in my warm and cozy room an hour or two, I rang for the servant—and told her to get that duck out of my valise and cook it for my dinner.

She opened the valise, dragged out the duck and then with an ejaculatory sound that usually indicates a nasty smell, threw down the duck and rushed out of the room as if she suspected a trick.

I put I protest, even to this day, that I was innocent of any such intention. It was merely a mistake.

I had hastily pocketed a duck that some other fellow had shot and lost at least a week before. It was a cold morning and the duck was stiff, but I stupidly overlooked that fact in my haste to put it out of sight of the game wardens, and it gave out no odor to indicate its condition till it got comfortably warmed up in my room.

I have always thought it best to respect the game laws and I mean to do it.

THEY EAT GRASSHOPPERS.

Turkeys Grow Fat in Ridding the Farm of the Pests.

There is a small reptile out west known as the fence lizard, which catches and eats a great many grasshoppers. The species is very common in the infested regions.

Skunks are most active enemies of the insect and have been known to ascend trees for the purpose of catching them. For obvious reasons it will hardly be practicable to encourage these particular mammals, but no such objections would apply to toads, which are apt to swarm wherever the "hoppers" are, gobbling the latter greedily.

Many planters in California employ flocks of turkeys for the purpose of freeing their orchards and vineyards of grasshoppers. One turkey will destroy an almost incredible number in a single day. Incidentally the birds are fattened at the cheapest possible rate. They are so fond of such food that sometimes they devour too many and die of indigestion.

Common barnyard fowls are likewise very efficient destroyers of grasshoppers. In one case referred to by a special agent of the department of agriculture, an almond orchard containing three hundred and sixty acres was attacked by migrating swarms last year. The house and barn were situated in the middle of the orchard, and the chickens browsed around them over an area of six or eight acres, which, by August, looked like a green oasis in the desert, the trees everywhere else having been stripped of their leaves by the voracious insects.

Locusts and Fanaticism.

Locusts have been doing great damage in some of the districts of Cape Colony, and the legislature has been considering how to deal with the plague. Some of the Cape farmers believe that nothing should be done. The following clipping is a report of what took place at a meeting of a village council. It is from a Cape newspaper: "Mr. S. Grobler said he had heard about the making of a locust law, and spoke in solemn terms of the godlessness of such a plan. Mr. I. Greeff said that if they would make a law to destroy locusts they must take into account which King is their ruler. Mr. C. Scheepers spoke in the same spirit, whereupon the following motion was proposed by C. Scheepers and seconded by I. Greeff: 'Seeing locusts are a plague which cannot be looked upon otherwise than as a punishment sent us from above, this meeting most strongly condemns the proclamation of a law for the eradication of the said plague.' This was carried."

A Choice Recipe.

There is a choice recipe, in which the owl figures, to "make anyone that sleepeth answer to whatsoever thou ask," given in "Physick for the Poor," published in London in 1657. It says that you are to "take the heart of an owle and his left leg, and put that upon the breast of one that sleepeth, and they shall reveal whatsoever thou shall ask them." The Hindus, however, declare that the flesh or blood of an owl will make a person insane who eats or drinks it. On this account men who are devoured by jealousy of a rival or hatred of an enemy come furtively to the market and purchase an owl. In silence they carry it home and secretly prepare a decoction, which an accomplice will put into the food or drink of the object of their malignant designs.

World's Fair Notes.

The international chess tournament to be held at Chicago in connection with the World's Fair will distribute $7,000 in prizes.

The owners of the Mammoth Cave of Kentucky propose to reproduce the "starry chamber" in the Mining Building at the World's Fair.

The British Building at the World's Fair will have among its decorations flags bearing the arms of the principal cities of the United Kingdom.

The main railway station within the World's Fair Grounds, where all excursion trains will discharge their passengers, will be a handsome structure costing $225,000, and will accommodate 25,000 persons at one time.

The proposed building for a collective exhibit by merchant tailors at the Fair will probably be near the Fisheries Building. As planned it will be 55 feet square with a portico extending to the lagoon. The tailors of Chicago have raised $10,000, and $15,000 is expected from members of the trade outside.

Persons in Bombay, India, are persuaded that there will be considerable profit in making a varied display at the World's Fair. They propose to send over twelve elephants, so that visitors can take rides "in howdah with mahout," to give exhibitions of suttee, cremation, jugglery, nautch, wrestling, etc., and to sell tea at ten cents a cup. They expect to sell a million cups.

Slavin After Sullivan.

Frank Slavin, who was so signally defeated by Peter Jackson, thinks he sees an opportunity of regaining his lost prestige and offers to fight Sullivan. A dispatch from London to a sporting paper says the Australian visited The Sporting Life and left a challenge to fight the ex-champion for any amount of money the latter names, either with gloves or bare knuckles, and under the London Prize Ring or Marquis of Queensberry rules, the battle to take place either in America or England.

Steps have at last been taken toward arranging a fight between Jim Corbett and Peter Jackson. "Parson" Davies, the colored pugilist's manager, and Warren Lewis, late backer of Jim Hall, met some of the officials of the Coney Island Athletic Club to-day, and after discussing the prospects of a meeting between the two noted pugilists the "Parson" and Lewis were assured that the Coney Island Athletic Club would offer a purse of $25,000 in the event of the battle being fought at that club.

The organization, however, wishes it to be understood that they will not proceed further in the matter until the representatives of the principals get together and decide upon a date for the battle. Davies and Lewis while it was certain a challenge would be issued in behalf of Peter Jackson to fight Corbett, it would not be until the arrival of Jackson from England next month.

An eminent physician declares that savage races have better perception than civilized. Of 100 Indian boys he found none color blind; another group of 250 had but two, while none of the girls were found to be color blind.

CURE OF THE TOBACCO HABIT.

This Young Man Relieved His Craving by Smoking Common Mullein.

One of the Shore Line trains was coming up from New York, says the Boston Herald. A young man entered the smoking car at New London, pulled a book from his grip and a D. P. from his pocket, filled the D. P., lighted it and settled comfortably into his seat for the journey.

Pretty soon a pleasant aromatic odor began to prevade the car in his vicinity. It had a suggestion of cubebs, but was not cubebs. There was a hint of sweet fern, yet it was different.

The drummers who were playing whist in the opposite seats sniffed the air and looked about; so did the old gentleman in the seat in front of the youth with the T. D.

By and by the old gentleman turned around and said: "I beg your pardon, young man, but may I ask what you are smoking?"

The young man smiled. "I am trying to break myself of smoking," he said. "My sweetheart objects to tobacco. She dosen't care how much I smoke if I let the great weed alone. Now you, as a smoker yourself, know that the principal pleasure of smoking comes from the habit of holding the pipe or cigar in the mouth and seeing the smoke curl away. It is quite as much that as the narcotic effects of the nicotine.

"Well, then, I have that pleasure in smoking this substance. But that is not all. While it has a very pleasant taste and odor, burns freely, soothes the nerves and helps materially any rawness of the throat or bronchial tubes, the peculiar thing about it is that after smoking it a cigar or tobacco in any form tastes so badly that a man positively can't smoke it. That's how I am curing myself of smoking tobacco."

"But what is the stuff?" asked the old gentleman.

"Nothing but common mullein," replied the young man with a smile.

A COMMON GEOGRAPHY.

Schema for a Uniform Plan to Embrace All Countries.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—The secretary of state has been informed by the Swiss charge d'affaires here that in the session of August 14, 1891, the international congress of international sciences, assembled at Berne, announced that it was urgent to elaborate and publish in all civilized countries, bibliographies of geographical sciences following, as far as possible, a uniform plan, and that the best methods of realizing this project would be to institute in each country a central commission, to which the work should be entrusted. These commissions would maintain with each other constant relations and conduct the work upon the same principles and add each other by an interchange of documents.

The directing committee of congress has charged the central commission of "Swiss Geographic Bibliography" to take the necessary steps for carrying out the wish expressed and to give to the revolution the widest possible publicity. As the geographical publications are scattered and incompletely catalogued at present, it is impossible to collect them for study. The publication in all civilized countries of systematic reports of geography would be of great utility. In several countries efforts made in this direction have met with success. The Swiss government has requested Secretary Foster to call the attention of the Geographic and other analogous societies existing in the United States to the wish expressed by the international and Geographic congress of Berne, 1891, and to desire them to further it by instituting a central commission for publishing a bibliography of geographic science relating to the United States.

LEMON JUICE A PREVENTIVE.

It Knocks the Bacilli Silly—A Generous Gift From New York Fruit Dealers for Victims.

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—The importers and dealers in Mediterranean fruit held a meeting Thursday. The chairman, Mr. Hirsch, stated that the object of the call was to contribute a sufficient quantity of lemons to the cholera patients so that they can partake of the lemon juice, which has been recommended by leading physicians.

On motion of Anthony Zucca, the dealers and the importers decided to contribute 100 boxes of the finest Messina lemons, which were sent to quarantine Friday morning. Chevalier Louis Contieh, the president, read a communication from Dr. Christmas of the Pasteur college. Dr. Christmas says: "To render in time of cholera the use of unboiled drinking water harmless lemon juice is recommended. Acids are detrimental to cholera bacillus."

Dr. Christmas found that nine grains of acid of lemon used in water of the Paris aqueducts rendered within a quarter of an hour all the cholera bacillus harmless. Nine grains of said acid destroys in the same amount of water all the bacillus of typhus. Two grains of acid of lemon to one quart of water is sufficient to make drinking water totally harmless.

ALIENS IN THE CENSUS.

Interesting Figures Furnished by Six of the Largest States.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—The census bureau issued a bulletin on the color, sex and general nativity of the population of the states of Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota. Of the male population of these states taken as a whole, over 21 years of age 19.59 per cent. are aliens, 64 per cent. of aliens have been naturalized. 7.31 per cent have taken out their first papers. As to the remaining 28.7 per cent nothing has been learned. Of the aliens in Ohio 35.43 per cent can not speak the English language. In Indiana the percentage of those who can not speak English is 26.10; in Illinois, 30.24; in Michigan, 37.09; in Wisconsin, 43.23, and in Minnesota, 34.36.

The Inoculation Test.

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—The Heald's inoculation cholera correspondent has left Paris for Hamburg. This is his statement before leaving: "I feel perfectly well from two inoculations with the exception of a tenderness and a certain prickling over portions of my body where the inoculation has spread. I go to Hamburg with the sole idea of testing Haffkine's cholera preventive. I go with the full knowledge and assent of Drs. Pasteur and Haffkine. Both have assured me that they will watch with the utmost interest the result of my experiences."

Big Indemnity Paid.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 17.—The Porte, through the American legation, offered Missionary Barnum, whose house was set on fire by fanatics, $6,000 indemnity. The legation replied that it would suffice to cover the damage. The incident has, therefore, been closed.

Cholera Bound to Come.

DETROIT, Mich., Sept. 17.—Cholera is due in Detroit in two weeks, according to Dr. J. J. Muiheron, United States inspector. "It is almost inevitable," the doctor declared. "it can hardly be avoided. The whole country is in for a struggle with the disease, is my earnest belief."

Rough on the Celestials.

DETROIT, Mich., Sept. 17.—The four Chiuamen arrested on August 9 as they were starting for Chicago, have been sentenced by U. S. Commissioner Graves to ten days in the house of correction. After the sentence is served they are to be sent back to China.

MANIAC'S DEED.

The Terrible Discovery Made by a Small Boy.

J. Van Meter, an Ohio Maniac, Kills His Wife and Child.

Their Heads Crushed and Bodies Mutilated in a Horrible Manner—The Murderer Missing, and the Finding of His Dead Body Is Expected.

WAVERLY, O., Sept. 17.—A shocking tragedy, presumably the work of a maniac, occurred near Idaho, in the western part of this county Thursday night. In this locality lived John J. Van Meter, a man about 35 years of age, with his wife and two children, the oldest boy about 8 years, and the youngest a baby in its mother's arms.

For some time Van Meter has shown evidences of mental derangement, but nothing serious was apprehended by his family or neighbors. Thursday night the family retired as usual, but when the eldest boy awoke Friday morning he was dumbfounded to find himself alone in the house, his parents and baby sister having disappeared during the night.

After waiting a while for them to return the boy started to go to his grandfathers, about a mile distant. When about one hundred yards from the house he was horrified to find his mother and little sister lying dead in his path, their heads crushed and bodies terribly mutilated.

The terrified boy soon alarmed the neighbors, who at once instituted a search for Van Meter, but without success. It is thought that after murdering his wife and child Van Meter sought some out of the way place and took his own life. It may be some time before his body is found, if such is the case.

WAR PROBABLE.

Two Hostile Forces of the Choctaw Nation Which May Renew the Conflict at Any Moment.

SOUTH MCALLISTER, I. T., Sept. 17.—Dark and ominous clouds are rising over the entire Choctaw nation. Intense excitement prevails everywhere. The agreement which was signed by prominent leaders of both parties has been rescinded, war is liable to break out at a moment's notice. Both parties are continually receiving reinforcements, despite Tuesday's agreement to disarm and disperse. A party from the Jackson faction is encamped near, while one from the opposite side is within shooting distance of them. The United States troops garrisoned at Ft. Reno have been placed at the disposal of Indian Agent Bennett by Assistant Adjutant General McKeener. Mr. Bennett has not as yet succeeded in his mission to restore peace. The bone of contention now is the disposition to be made of the fifteen prisoners who are held for the killing of four men recently. They are the friends of their friends who propose to hold them for trial, but will not deliver them to the governors. It has been suggested that this controversy may be settled by delivering them to the federal jail at Ft. Smith, but so far nothing until they may receive proper trial. Unless some arrangement can be affected within the twenty-four hours, it is feared that the two parties will meet in mortal combat.

TRAMP ARRESTED.

He Begged at the Door of a Woman Whose Mother He Had Killed—Recognized.

PADUCAH, Ky., Sept. 17.—A. W. Dorsey has been arrested in Metropolis charged with assaulting and causing the death of Mrs. Cynthia Henderson, of Lowesville, Ky., in 1884. Dorsey lived neighbor to Mrs. Henderson, and assaulted her and then robbed her. He was arrested, but before he was jailed escaped. Since then until he appeared at Metropolis he has been at large. As a tramp he went to the home of a daughter of Mrs. Henderson, and she recognized him and held him with a revolver until officers were called. Witnesses to the assault still live, and Dorsey will be convicted, if not be mobbed. His deed was a most fiendish one, as Mrs. Henderson was 80 years old. His arrest has created excitement in his old home.

Shot by a Cripple.

BELFAST, Me., Sept. 17.—A double tragedy occurred in Belmont, about five miles from this city. Samuel A. Moody, a cripple, living with his sister near Johnson's Corner, Belmont, shot and killed Fannie Belle Nichols, aged 32, and then shot himself. The girl has borne a good reputation, and no motive is assigned for the tragedy. Moody was a man of violent temper and had a bad reputation.

Louisiana's Gift.

BATON ROUGE, La., Sept. 17.—The governor has received a check covering the direct tax due by the United States to the people of Louisiana for $814,500. Pending final action of the committee for distribution of this fund the money will go into the state treasury, under a law passed by the last legislature.

A Victim of the Columbus Accident.

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 17.—Jas. Leach, the dwarf from Pleasantville, who was injured by the falling of the grating over Smith's areaway, Thursday night, died at the hospital Friday. Sixteen bones in his fragile body were broken. The boy was the sole support of an aged and poor mother.

Establishing Quarantine.

Cross, of Chicago; W. H. Davenport, of St. Louis, and John Phillips, J. J. Williams and Dr. Hilbert Foote, of Honolulu, to establish a lottery in Honolulu for a term of twenty-five years. The company is to pay for the franchise $534,000 each year, in quarterly installments, the minister of the interior to disburse this sum for the following purposes: Ocean cable between Honolulu and any port on the North American continent connecting with the American telegraph system, $100,000 per annum; a subsidy for the construction of a railroad around the island of Oahu, $50,000 per annum; a subsidy for a railroad through Hilo and Hamakua, Hawaii, $50,000 per annum; roads, bridges, harbor works and wharves in the Hawaiian kingdom, $175,000 per annum; improving Honolulu harbor: $50,000 per annum; encouragement to industries in the kingdom, $50,000 per annum.

It, however, the reciprocity treaty with the United States is abrogated the last two items are to be applied to building dry docks. The last item is $25,000 for the encouragement of tourist travel and immigration. The capital stock of the company is fixed at $5,000,000; 50,000 tickets may be increased to $10,000,000. The bill provides two commissioners shall be appointed by the queen, on a salary of $6,000 a year, to preside at all drawings of lottery. The grantees are to be exempted from all taxes and license fees, and to have the use of the Hawaiian mails. The bill has caused much discussion, and, though there is strong opposition, present appearances are in favor of the passage of the bill.

HE WAS TOO THIN.

The Reason Given By Mrs. Stern For Leaving Her Mate.

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—Joseph Stern, a tailor, at No. 103 First avenue, applied to Justice Mayo for the arrest of a woman who he said was his wife, but who, he said had been married to Charles Wirth, a baker, at Bayonne, by Rev. Mr. Andreae, on May 8. Stern told a rather strange story. He came to America from Austria, he said, and married the woman he now wants arrested. He says that after they came to this country his wife found fault with him because he wasn't fat enough to suit her. Taking advantage of his absence in Philadelphia she fled to Morrisiana, where she married a man named Creter. Tiring of him after a while, she left him and went to Bayonne. All the evidence he had was a photograph, which he said was a picture of his wife. He had been told that it resembled the woman in Bayonne. Mrs. Wirth denied Stern's story, and her husband became security for her appearance when wanted, which will be when Stern gives some evidence to prove his story.
